“ The BCIS Library was the first library I walked into after leaving school, and I didn't realize how much I needed that space until I sat down there for the first time. It wasn't just the books or the journals, it was the quiet, the stillness, and the feeling of having room to think again. Little by little, that space changed me. It helped me slow down, focus, and rediscover the joy of learning without pressure. I grew more curious, more grounded, and more confident in myself. When I look back now, I can genuinely say the BCIS Library didn't just support my studies, it made me a different person.

SPECIAL EVENTS

BCIS LIBRARY CELEBRATES NATIONAL READING MONTH WITH A SPECIAL WORKSHOP

The BCIS Library successfully organized a special workshop titled “A Friend in Need: Why Reading and Writing Are Crucially Important for Young Lives” on Friday, 24 October 2025, at the BCIS Auditorium, BMICH.

The session was conducted by Dr. Madhubhashini

Disanayake Ratnayake, Senior Lecturer at the University of Sri Jayewardenepura, who shared insightful perspectives on the transformative power of reading and writing in shaping young minds and nurturing personal growth. The event brought together an enthusiastic audience of students and teachers for a discussion on how cultivating reading and writing habits can foster creativity, empathy, and critical thinking among youth.

Organized as part of National Reading Month, the workshop was attended by over 130 students and teachers from

D.S. Senanayake College, Ananda College, and Vidura College, Colombo, along with BCIS board members, librarians, principals, and educators.

This inspiring initiative provided a valuable platform to promote a culture of reading and intellectual engagement among the younger generation.

WORKSHOP ON POWER OF PAGE

The BCIS Library organized a special workshop titled “Power of a Page” on Friday, 10 October 2025, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

The session was conducted by Mr. D.M.T. Madushanka, Lecturer, Department of Business Management, Faculty of Management and Finance, University of Ruhuna. The workshop focused on enhancing participants' professional development skills through practical guidance on preparing professional CVs, Europass CVs, cover letters, LinkedIn accounts, and interview techniques.

Organized by the Special Library Team in collaboration with the Sri Lanka Library Association, This event was attended by individuals from diverse sectors and provided an opportunity to enhance professional development and build a strong professional image.

WORKSHOP ON OPENBIBLIO (OB) LIBRARY AUTOMATION SOFTWARE

The BCIS Library, in collaboration with the Special Library Group of the Sri Lanka Library Association, successfully conducted the Workshop on OpenBiblio (OB) Library Automation Software on 22–23 August 2025 at BCIS.

OpenBiblio (OB) is an open-source integrated library system widely used by small to medium-sized libraries. It offers modules for cataloging, circulation, and patron management, enabling libraries to automate daily operations with ease and efficiency. Its user-friendly interface and multilingual support make it especially adaptable for diverse library environments.

The two-day trilingual training, led by M.A.M. Fahri, Librarian of the Naleemiah Institute of Islamic Studies, provided participants with hands-on experience in cataloging, circulation, and user record management using OpenBiblio. The programme enhanced participants' skills in library automation, improved service efficiency, and promoted better library organization.

AUTHOR TALK

The BCIS Library, together with The Centre for Law and Security Studies (CLASS), organized an Author Talk on Strategic Policy Analysis (Vol. 1), titled "Bridging Trust Deficits: Unpacking Structural Challenges in Indo-Sri Lanka Relations." The event, held on 9 September 2025 at the BCIS Auditorium, was led by Mr. Shakthi De Silva, CLASS Policy Fellow and Visiting Lecturer at BCIS.

During the talk, Mr. De Silva shed light on the evolving dynamics of Indo-Sri Lanka relations, emphasizing persistent challenges such as lingering mistrust, policy inconsistencies, and unresolved issues like fisheries disputes. He also highlighted the importance of policy coherence, reconciliation efforts, and mutual cooperation to build a resilient and stable diplomatic relationship between the two nations.

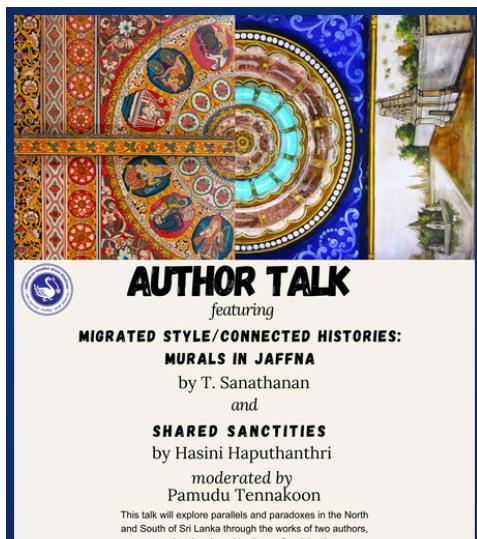

The session drew the interest of academics, researchers, and students, offering a valuable platform to engage with fresh perspectives on regional security and diplomacy.

AUTHOR TALK

On 25th September 2025, BCIS Library organized an Author Talk featuring two distinguished speakers. Mr. T. Sanathanan presented his work "Migrated Style/Connected Histories: Murals in Jaffna", while Ms. Hasini Haputhanthri discussed her publication "Shared Sanctities", with the session moderated by Ms. Pamudu Tennakoon.

The discussion explored intersections, parallels, and paradoxes between the North and South of Sri Lanka, focusing on themes of history, memory, identity, art, and culture. It opened fresh perspectives and sparked meaningful dialogue, highlighting the significance of shared heritage and cultural continuities.

BCIS LIBRARY AT THE COLOMBO INTERNATIONAL BOOK FAIR 2025

The BCIS Library participated in the Colombo International Book Fair 2025, held at the BMICH from September 27 to October 6, 2025. The library's book stall, located at Sirimavo Hall (Stall No. A37), featured a wide selection of publications and attracted many visitors interested in exploring the BCIS's academic and cultural contributions. The event provided an excellent platform to promote the BCIS Library's resources and engage with a broader community of readers and researchers.

EDUCATION FAIR AT MAHANAMA COLLEGE

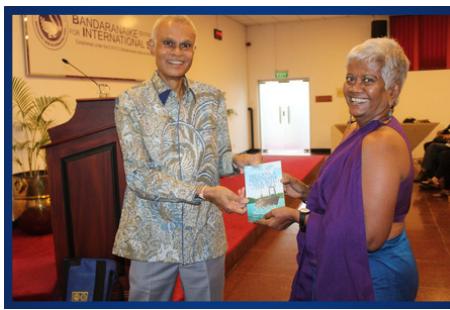

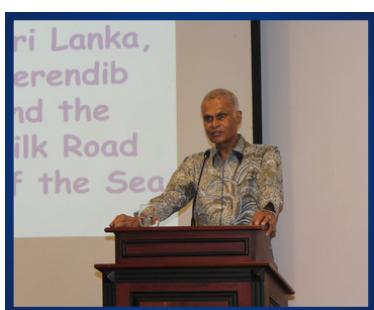

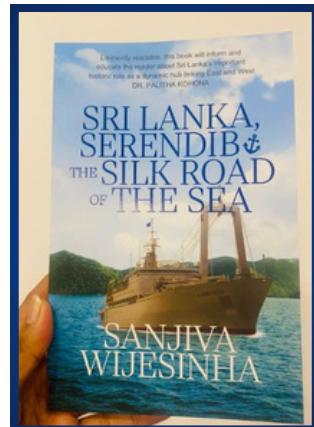

The BCIS Library successfully participated in the Educational Fair held at Mahanama College, Colombo, on 26 and 27 August 2025 to promote its services. The events provided an excellent platform to showcase the library's resources, BCIS courses, and various offerings to a wider audience. They also enabled the library to engage with students, educators, and professionals, fostering greater awareness of its valuable services.

BOOK LAUNCH

The launch of the book titled 'Sri Lanka, Serendib The Silk Road of The Sea', authored by Dr. Sanjiva Wijesinha and published by the Perera-Hussein Publishing House, was held on Friday, 22 August 2025 from 05:00p.m. to 06:30p.m. at the BCIS Auditorium (The Olympus).

'Sri Lanka, Serendib The Silk Road of The Sea' is an interesting and easy to read book. It is a mixture of personal experience and researched evidence – complements the more academic oriented books that are produced on the silk road and on Indian Ocean trade

The latest BCIS publication titled 'Sri Lanka's Defence Policy since Independence and the Shifting Balance of Power in the Indian Ocean' authored by Prof. Gamini Keerawella, Member of the BCIS Council of Management and Academic Affairs Board, was launched at the BCIS Auditorium on Tuesday, 29 July 2025.

This publication presents a penetrating analysis of the evolution of Sri Lanka's defence strategy from 1948 to the present day and examines how domestic political developments and changing geopolitical dynamics have influenced the country's national security policy within the increasingly contested Indian Ocean region.

BCIS RESEARCH MONOGRAPH-2025

B. A. I. Maheshi Jayawardane, Senior Researcher at the BCIS, published a monograph titled “International Frameworks on Climate Change Mitigation, Climate Activism and Its Impacts on Climate Policy in the Global South.”

The monograph critically examines existing international frameworks on climate change mitigation and analyses the role of climate activism in shaping climate policies in the global south. It highlights how countries in the global south continue to bear a disproportionate burden of climate change impacts, despite having contributed least to historical emissions. The study further underscores the persistent gap between commitments and compliance, pointing to the reluctance of major historical emitters to fully uphold their responsibilities under established global climate frameworks.

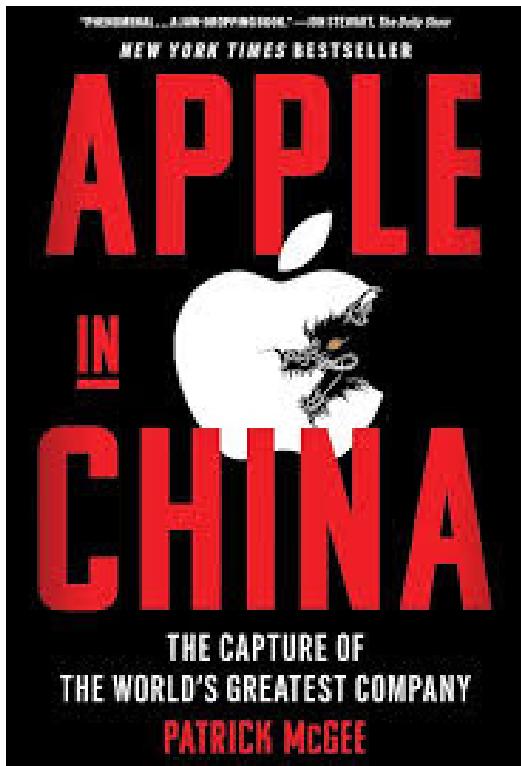

FOREIGN AFFAIRS JOURNAL

The BCIS Library provides access to Foreign Affairs, a leading journal on International Relations published by the Council on Foreign Relations, offering authoritative analysis on global politics, diplomacy, security, and economic affairs. The Library maintains a current subscription, with physical copies available for reference and electronic access provided through institutional IP or login credentials. Featuring insights from renowned scholars, diplomats, and policymakers, Foreign Affairs serves as a valuable resource for research, assignments, and policy discussions. BCIS students and staff are encouraged to explore both the print and online versions to stay informed about key global developments.

APPLE IN CHINA - REVIEW

January 04, 2026

Tharishi Hewavithanagamage

Senior Researcher -BCIS

Apple in China: The Capture of the World's Greatest Company by investigative journalist Patrick McGee is a rigorously researched and unsettling account of how the world's most valuable corporation became structurally embedded within China's political-industrial ecosystem and, in doing so, helped accelerate the country's rise as a global manufacturing and technological powerhouse.

The book explores how Apple's integration into China was not merely a business strategy, but a geopolitical event that reshaped global supply chains, technological power, and the relationship between corporations and states. Drawing on internal documents and interviews with more than 200 sources, including former Apple employees, McGee traces Apple's evolution from near bankruptcy in the 1990s to global dominance, charting its gradual but decisive shift toward outsourcing – first to Japan and Taiwan and later overwhelmingly to mainland China. Rather than simply relocating production in search of cheap labor, Apple actively sought partners capable of advancing cutting-edge design and pushing the boundaries of manufacturing innovation. Through sustained investment in skills development, supplier coordination and production discipline, Apple transferred manufacturing expertise at a scale comparable to state-led industrial policy. In reframing globalization this way, McGee challenges the assumption that multinational corporations are autonomous winners in a liberal economic order; instead, he demonstrates how China strategically absorbed corporate capabilities, gradually reversing the balance of dependence. Decisions that were rational at the firm level – efficiency, scale, and speed – ultimately produced strategic vulnerability at the geopolitical level.

One of the book's most compelling contributions lies in its analysis of power, compliance, and digital sovereignty, particularly after 2013 as China tightened political control under President Xi Jinping. As regulatory and political pressure intensified, Apple increasingly complied with censorship demands, data localization requirements, and app removals, prioritizing market access over commitments to privacy and freedom of expression. McGee illustrates how Apple's celebrated control over hardware, software, and services proved negotiable when confronted by an authoritarian state capable of leveraging supply-chain dominance. These dynamics are especially resonant amid intensifying US-China technology rivalry, tariffs, export controls, and debates over decoupling. McGee's comparison between Apple's investments in China and recent US policy initiatives highlights the gap between decades of corporate-driven globalization and belated state efforts to reclaim strategic manufacturing capacity.

Apple emerges neither as villain nor victim, but as a powerful corporate actor constrained by the very system it helped build. While the book occasionally overstates Apple's centrality in China's industrial rise and offers limited insight into internal Chinese policy debates, it remains a landmark contribution. Its central lesson is clear: global supply chains are not neutral economic instruments, but sites of power, leverage, and strategic consequence in an era of technological competition and geopolitical fragmentation.

NEW ARRIVALS

BCIS NEWS-2025

Advancing Knowledge in a Changing World

BCIS NEWS

This section covers all organized events, seminars, webinars, panel discussions, and public lectures conducted at BCIS in 2025.

Conferences, Webinars and Panel Discussions

- Discussion on “Scrutinising the State through the lens of Statelessness” by Mr. Amal de Chickera, Co-Founder and Co-Director of the Institute of Statelessness and Inclusion (ISI) was held on 28 October 2025. The discussion enhanced participants' understanding of statelessness as a critical human rights issue, highlighting how state policies and power structures can exclude individuals from basic rights, while emphasizing the need for inclusive laws, accountability, and greater protection for stateless communities.
- Emerging Scholars' Symposium 2025 – Rethinking the Future of International Relations. The Bandaranaike Centre for International Studies (BCIS) successfully hosted the Emerging Scholars' Symposium (ESS) 2025 under the theme “Rethinking the Future of International Relations” on August 28, 2025. The Symposium attracted strong regional and international interest, with 60 papers selected for presentation across 15 panels in three sessions, covering a broad range of themes including regional cooperation, migration, security, diplomacy, global norms, and other contemporary issues in international relations. ESS 2025 brought together emerging scholars from Sri Lanka, India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh, fostering meaningful cross-border academic exchange. The event was further enriched by a keynote address delivered by Mr. Shiran Illanperuma, Researcher at the Tricontinental: Institute for Social Research.
- Panel Discussion “The Climate Crisis: Ethical Imperatives, Ocean Ecosystems and Community Action” with Mr. Mathew Pye, Author of Plato Tackles and teacher of philosophy of the European School, Brussels; Mr. Muditha Katuwawala, Executive Director, The Pearl Protectors and Prof. Terney Pradeep Kumara, Director General of the Department of Coastal Conservation and Coastal Resources Management was held on 07 August 2025. The panel discussion was facilitated by Ms. Maheshi Jayawardena, Senior Researcher/BCIS. The panel discussion enhanced awareness of the ethical dimensions of the climate crisis, highlighted the urgency of protecting ocean ecosystems, and emphasized the importance of community-based action through integrated philosophical, environmental, and policy perspectives.
- A dialogue between Prof. Christopher Jaffrelot and Prof. Sharika Thiranagama on “Issues of Inequalities and Democracy in South Asia” was held on 24 July 2025, and Dr. Radhika Coomaraswamy, Member of the BCIS Academic Affairs Board facilitated the discussion. The dialogue deepened insight into how caste, ethnicity, militarisation and other structural inequalities shape democratic processes in South Asia, fostering critical reflection on the limits and possibilities of democracy in the region.

- Panel Discussion “States under Scrutiny: Reflections on Aggression, Nuclear Risks, and the Duty of States to Future Generations” was held on 15 July 2025. Panelists: Prof. Wasantha Seneviratne, Chair Professor, Department of Public and International Law, University of Colombo and Mr. Neshan Gunasekara, Chief Executive Officer, World Future Council. The Panel discussion was moderated by Dr. Nishara Mendis, Director/Research of BCIS. The panel discussion highlighted the interconnected threats of state aggression and nuclear risks, fostering reflection on how states should uphold international law, restrain the use of force, and take responsibility toward protecting future generations by promoting peace, reducing nuclear dangers, and strengthening duties of care in global governance
- 70 Years After Bandung: Challenges and Struggles on the Road Self Determination and South – South Solidarity. Two-day Conference co-hosted by the BCIS with International Development Economics Associates (IDEAs) and Yukthi on 02 and 03 July 2025. The conference reaffirmed the relevance of the Bandung legacy by highlighting ongoing challenges to self-determination and emphasizing the need to strengthen South-South solidarity to address contemporary global inequalities and power imbalances.
- Webinar titled “Beyond The Border: India – Pakistan Unpacked” was held on 29 May 2025. Panellists: Major General Binoj Basnyat, Strategic Analyst, Nepal Army, Dr. Asantha Senevirathne, Senior Lecturer, General Sir John Kotelawala Defence University, Sri Lanka, and Prof. Shahab Enam Khan, Jahangirnagar University, Bangladesh. Mr. Shakthi De Silva, Visiting Lecturer, BCIS moderated the webinar, and it was facilitated by Ms. Sinduja W. Jayaratne, Senior Researcher/BCIS. The webinar enhanced understanding of India-Pakistan relations by examining strategic, security, and regional perspectives, encouraging informed dialogue on cross-border tensions, cooperation, and their wider implications for South Asian stability.
- Panel Discussion on “Foreign Policy in Times of Crisis: Lessons from Bandung” was held on 28 May 2025. Panelists: Ambassador H. M G. S. Palihakkara, former Secretary to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Mr. Shiran Illanperuma, Political Economist of Tricontinental, made presentations and Dr. Sakunala Kadirgamar, Executive Director of the Law & Society Trust (LST), moderated the discussion. The panel discussion explored lessons from the Bandung era for managing foreign policy during crises, emphasizing the importance of non-alignment, strategic autonomy, and fostering solidarity among Global South nations to address contemporary geopolitical challenges effectively.

Public Lectures

- The public lecture on “Ditwah & Disaster Capitalism”, held on 10 December 2025 at the BCIS Auditorium and led by Sushovan Dhar from CADTM, examined how climate disasters like Cyclone Ditwah intersected with global finance, debt restructuring, privatization, land grabs, and contractor-driven reconstruction. It highlighted how vulnerable populations disproportionately bore the costs while private and financial interests benefited, emphasizing the need for equitable, ecological, and people-centered development.
- Discussion on “The Politics of International Trade – FTAs and the need for alternative trade frameworks” by Mr. Afsar Jafri from GRAIN was held on 2 September 2025. The Discussion was held around contemporary developments in multilateral trade and challenges faced by the developing countries.
